ABSTRACT

In an effort to measure their students' satisfaction with their college experience, Arrowhead Community College Region (ACCR), in Minnesota, surveyed all 919 students graduating in the 1991-1992 school year. Graduates were asked to evaluate the academic environment and student services they received, to indicate their original educational intent, and to make suggestions for improvement. Students received the survey instrument as they applied for graduation, and 787 returned usable forms, for a response rate of 85.6%. Study findings included the following: (1) 43.6% of the respondents were 21 years old or younger, 35.1% were 30 years old or older, and 21.2% were between the ages of 22 and 29; (2) 63.0% of the respondents were women, 44.4% of whom were 30 years or older; (3) 73.4% of the graduates indicated that they received some form of financial aid while attending college, with twice as many females as males receiving financial aid; (4) 87.5% of the respondents were satisfied with their college experience; (5) students were most satisfied with their instructors' attitudes, the size of their classes, and the location of their college; (6) 21.2% of the respondents were dissatisfied with the availability of courses, while 12.3% felt the variety of courses offered should be increased, and 7.6% thought that laboratory facilities should be improved; (7) 81.3% of the students intended to receive a degree when they first enrolled in the ACCR; and (8) when they first enrolled, 42.1% of students intended to transfer after they received their degree, 23% did not intend to transfer, 9.3% intended to transfer before receiving their degree, and 21.3% were unsure of their plans to transfer. The survey instrument and data tables are included. (MAB)

INTRODUCTION

All Arrowhead Community College graduates were surveyed and asked to rate their satisfaction with their college experience. The Graduate Survey questionnaire was distributed as a student applied for graduation and was returned with the student's Intent to Graduate form. Of the 919 graduates surveyed, 787 (85.6%) responded to the survey.

In addition to evaluations of the academic environment and the student services they received while attending an Arrowhead college, the graduates were asked to indicate their original educational intent, make suggestions for improving the college and identify those things they like about the college. Information on the age, sex and financial status of the respondent was also collected.

DEMOGRAPHICS

The survey found that 43.6% of the respondents were 21 years old or younger, 35.1% were 30 years old or older and 21.2% were between the ages of 22 and 29.

The survey showed that 63.0% of the respondents were women, and of these, 44.4% were non-traditional age women, or women 30 years or older. Of the female respondents, 36.9% were 21 years or younger.

Males constituted 36.7% of the respondents. The majority of them (55.6%) were traditional students, 25.7% were between the ages of 22 and 29, and 18.8% were 30 years of age or older.

FINANCIAL AID

Nearly three-quarters (73.4%) of the graduates indicated they had received some form of financial aid while attending college. Twice as many female students received financial aid as male students (see Figure 4). Of all those who received financial aid, 16.8% were men under the age of 30 and 32.0% were women 30 years of age or older.

THE GRADUATES' EVALUATION

Graduates were asked to evaluate the services provided by the college they attended. Questions 4 and 5 list specific services, facilities and programs offered by the colleges. Respondents were asked to rate each item by attributing a number ranging from 1, very satisfied, to 5, very dissatisfied. To ensure the respondent would not be forced to rate an item he or she was not familiar with or had not used, a zero was used to indicate "No Opinion".

Figure 4. The students' evaluation of Arrowhead colleges in specific areas (Question 4). The favorable category represents the combination of "satisfied" and "very satisfied" responses to each of the items listed in question 4 on the questionnaire. The unfavorable category is comprised of a combination of the "dissatisfied" and "very dissatisfied" responses. The "neutral" and "no opinion" are not included in the chart. Refer to Table 4 for a complete list of the responses to this question.

An impressive 87.5% of the graduates were satisfied with their college experience in general. Students were most satisfied with their instructors' attitudes, the size of their classes and the location. More than three-quarters of the graduates were satisfied with the testing and grading system and general condition of the buildings and grounds. Over 70% of the graduates felt the quality of instruction and course content in their major field prepared them for their future career. More than half of the graduates surveyed were satisfied with all the items listed in Question 4.

Graduates were most dissatisfied with the availability of courses. This area received a 21.2% unfavorable rating; 12.3% of the graduates felt the variety of courses offered by the college should be increased and 7.6% thought the laboratory facilities should be improved.

Figure 5. The students' evaluation of Arrowhead colleges in specific areas (Question 5). The favorable category represents the combination of "satisfied" and "very satisfied" responses to each of the items listed in question 5 on the questionnaire. The unfavorable category is comprised of a combination of the "dissatisfied" and "very dissatisfied" responses. The "neutral" and "no opinion" are not included in the chart. Refer to Table 5 for a complete list of the responses to this question.

Question 5 asked graduates to rate the services available at the colleges. As figure 5 shows, more than three of every five graduates responded favorably to the bookstore and business office, registration, library, computer laboratory, and academic advising.

It should be noted that, referring to Figures 4 and 5, the items at the bottom of the chart were not rated as high as others because of the number of graduates who indicated "No Opinion" to each item. For example, the child day care center was ranked twenty-second in Figure 5 with only a 11.9% favorable rating. However, 75.3% of those surveyed indicated "No Opinion" to this item, meaning they did not use or were unfamiliar with this service.

Graduates registered very few negative responses to any items. Parking facilities, with an 14.7% unfavorable rating, received the most unfavorable responses.

STUDENT INTENT

The survey found that 81.3% of the graduates did intend to receive a degree when they first enrolled in an Arrowhead college, 5.6% did not think they would earn a degree, and 9.4% did not know whether they would at the time.

The graduates indicated a variety of responses when asked whether they intended to transfer to a four year institution when they first enrolled at an Arrowhead college.

As figure 7 shows, at the time they first enrolled, 42.1% intended to transfer after they received a degree, 23.0% did not plan to transfer, 9.3% would transfer before they received a degree, and 21.3% were unsure of their plans.

Figure 8. What did you like best about the college?

Like last year's survey, the graduates stated that the location, the caring attitude and accessibility of faculty, and class size were the best part of their college experience. The quality of instruction, friendly atmosphere, and positive attitudes also received many favorable comments. The cost of tuition was another attractive factor for many graduates.

When asked what they thought needed to be changed or improved, most graduates were concerned about campus facilities, such as dormitories, study areas, and parking. As shown in figure 9, class and program offerings, and class availability were also major concerns.

Figure 9. What do you think needs to be changed or improved at the college?

Provosts or Center Directors have been provided a complete report of all written comments from their graduates.

The final question on the graduate survey asked: "If you had it to do over again, would you attend the college?" The majority, 86.1% of the Arrowhead graduates stated that yes, they would do it again. The most common reasons given by the graduates were the location, cost and good start they found at their colleges. Most Arrowhead graduates said that they received a good education which prepared them for their future.

Figure 10. If you had it to do over again, would you attend the college?

For the remaining 13.9%, responses varied for each college. Graduates who indicated they would not attend their colleges again commented that they would attend a four year institution instead, they were generally dissatisfied, or that there were better programs available elsewhere. However, most of the graduates in this group were unsure of their reasons or offered no reasons for their dissatisfaction.

IN SUMMARY

The 1991-92 graduates of Arrowhead colleges were generally satisfied with the education they received. It is clear from this survey and the 1990-91 survey that the location of the college, the reasonable tuition rates, the quality of instruction and faculty involvement, and the general atmosphere of the college are key factors in attracting students. Most of the services offered by the seven Arrowhead colleges and centers also received favorable ratings. Respondents were most satisfied with the academic advising and financial aid services and the computer lab facilities. Graduates were most dissatisfied with the availability and variety of courses offered.

More than eighty percent of those surveyed indicated that, when they first enrolled at an Arrowhead college, they intended to earn a degree; 42.1% stated that they intended to transfer to a four year institution after they received their degree.
